

VOGUE

CULTURE

Ring It In: Six Last-Minute Destinations You Can Still Book for the Holidays

by Richard Alleman

Worried that you've put off making New Year's plans and now it's too late? Not to fret, these six getaways are memorable and—perhaps more importantly—available options to book now.

Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico

The season's biggest news in the Caribbean is the debut last week of the Ritz-Carlton Reserve property on the former Rockefeller estate at Dorado Beach in Puerto Rico. Besides beachfront rooms and suites with outdoor shower gardens, private infinity pools, and great style, the new resort has three restaurants, including acclaimed chef José Andrés's Mi Casa; a glamorous spa with glass-walled treatment rooms or "tree house" treatment platforms; and for extra privacy, a four-bedroom VIP villa. New Year's Eve, expect a celebration dinner at Mi Casa and lots of fireworks. Rates start at $1,499 per night; doradobeach.com.

Photo: Courtesy of The Ritz-Carlton Reserve